The Anatomical Breast Compress

CE

- The original, and still the best - recommended by lactation consultants and midwives
- As a cold compress, it provides relief for swollen or engorged breasts
- As a warm compress, it assists the letdown reflex
- Anatomically designed for application to the lateral breast glands
- Soft cover for maximum comfort and protection

Temperature Pack

The ARDO Temperature Pack was developed in close collaboration with a lactation consultant in Switzerland and has already been used successfully in many hospitals and by mothers at home.

Perfect anatomy: The anatomic shape promotes the reduction of swelling and pain in the lymph nodes within the axillary glandular tissue. The generous aperture prevents any contact with the sensitive nipple.

As a cold compress: If used as a cold compress after breastfeeding, it provides pleasant relief for mastitis or swollen or engorged breasts.

As a warm compress: If the Temperature Pack is used as a warm compress before breastfeeding, it promotes the letdown reflex and helps to make breastfeeding more enjoyable and relaxing.

Comfortable and safe: The soft cover protects the skin from excessive heat or cold. Additional covers can be bought and the compress can therefore be used hygienically by different mothers (e.g. in the hospital).

Reliable ARDO quality - made in Switzerland:

Foil	High quality material promotes maximum lifespan and optimum maintenance of temperature. The 8 flexible chambers help the compress to mold itself around the breast. Suitable for microwave.
Gel	The special gel (nontoxic) means that the Temperature Pack will retain its shape even if the mother is, for example, sitting.
Soft cover	Soft, dermatologically tested and adjustable with velcro fastener.
